Helping People Feel Better Naturally

For over 30 years TensCare has been on the cutting edge for pain management and incontinence therapy. TENS (transcutaneous electrical nerve stimulation) and EMS (electrical muscle stimulation) are ultra safe and easy to use. TensCare has a full range of devices for pain therapy including labour pains and pelvic health.

Managing Labour Pain Using TENS

TensCare has many years experience in providing a modern, safe, drug-free solution for labour pain. The Perfect MamaTENS and Mama+ are both approved by Health Canada and recommended by midwives, doulas and health care professionals. Labour TENS machines are designed specifically to help the mom labour at home longer and delay early intervention of other pain management.

Managing Incontinence

Incontinence is a common condition that affects 8.7% of individuals over the age of 20 globally, with the prevalence rising to 30-60% among women aged 40 and older. It can range from occasional leaks to the complete loss of bladder or bowel control. While it can occur at any age, the risk increases with age or after childbirth.

Women are more likely to experience urinary incontinence than men due to several factors, including the effects of pregnancy and childbirth on the pelvic floor, hormonal changes, and anatomical differences. Addressing this condition can significantly enhance quality of life, and seeking medical advice is essential for accurate diagnosis and effective treatment.

Approximately 25-45% of women will experience urinary incontinence at some point in their lives, compared to 15-25% of men. It often arises from weakened or overstretched pelvic floor muscles, which are crucial for supporting abdominal and pelvic organs, controlling bladder and bowel function, providing stability during pregnancy and childbirth, and working in tandem with the abdominal and back muscles to support the spine.

 JOEYBAND

Easing the Transition from Womb to World

Trusted by Hospitals. Driven by Data. Backed by Science.

Joeyband is clinically proven and designed for prolonged skin-to-skin care. Babies held skin-to-skin are proven to have stronger immune systems, are 12x less likely to cry and sleep better and for longer. A bonus is its ability to increase endorphins, which strengthens bonding for all caregivers, including the non-birthing parent.

Joeyband is optimized for all neonatal care settings: labour and delivery, the operating room, the NICU, and at home. The Joeyband does more than just snuggle your baby safely; rest assured you're giving baby one of the healthiest starts for growth and development.

Joeyband was created to help decrease the risk of infant falls and to help increase breastfeeding rates by facilitating increased skin-to-skin contact in the immediate post-partum period. Joeyband can help with extended Kangaroo Care in the NICU, which may shorten length of stay and improve patient outcomes.

The Joeyband is not a carrier, and not for co-sleeping (bedsharing). It is for proper skin-to-skin positioning and breastfeeding support.

In the NICU:

Facilitates extended Kangaroo Care which helps shorten length of stay and saves money

Protect Sore or Sensitive Nipples

Mamivac nipple shields are hypo-allergenic and made of thin, tasteless silicone to facilitate latch and comfort while breastfeeding. They come in multiple sizes and shapes to fit all needs. Mamivac nipple shields are for short term use for latch assistance, to help with flat inverted nipples or sore or sensitive nipples. Mamivac has a unique and ergonomic shape designed to keep skin-to-skin contact during breastfeeding.

Conical Shape: 18mm, 20mm, 28mm

The conical shaped shield has straight side walls right to the base. It does not indent down the shaft of the shield's nipple. It is slightly wider at the base of the nipple than the tip.

Cherry Shape: 18mm, 20mm

This shape can be helpful for baby with sucking difficulties such as tongue tie because it is rounded and offers an indent so baby can "catch" onto the nipple.

Mamivac conical nipple shields are available in clinical packs of 50, clean from manufacturer.
